Strategic Themes
1) GOI Setting Stage for UNSCR Draft Resolution discussion in Dec 2007 regarding Coalition withdrawal
2) GoI NOT ready to support over 4 million displaced people, who could return in a short period of time.
3) Resettling families in neighborhoods may lead to renewed ethnic fighting.
Shaybani makes a significant contribution to enforcing the freeze among mainstream JAM. The Sadrist Trend is under political and military pressure, and Sadr probably fears additional rifts, thus Sadr may feel reluctant to fire Shaybani.

(b)(3) 50 USC 3024(i)
Strategic Theme 1: continues to influence GoI and MoO in order to secure the business interests of oil companies in Iraq.

Strategic Theme 2: The GoI and MoO balances a need to ease diplomatic pressures with a desire to conclude more balanced contractual terms.

Lukoil Maneuvering to Re-sign Oil Contract

- Lukoil pressuring MoO to re-sign contract for West Qurna Oil Field
  - MoO delegation to [1.4b] this month
  - Saddam Hussein signed original contract in 1997; cancelled in 2002
    - GoI solicited new contract bids
  - Shahristani willing to sign contract without HCL
  - MoO spokesperson: Lukoil may be favored in new tender due to experience
- New [1.4b] consulates
  - Irbil opened on 28 November
  - Basrah planned

Assessment: The GoI insists on a new tender process for West Qurna Oil Field to get a richer contract. Lukoil reluctant to surrender old contract, which secured huge oil reserves at low price. [1.4b, 1.4d]

Strategic Theme 1: [1.4b] continues to influence GoI and MoO in order to secure the business interests of oil companies in Iraq.

Strategic Theme 2: The GoI and MoO balances a need to ease diplomatic pressures with a desire to conclude more balanced contractual terms.
ING: Looking to Future

• New Iraqi National Gathering (ING) Offices
  – Opened office in al-Kut
  – Office planned for Nasiriyah
  – Positive reaction from some Shi’a clerics
  – Najaf representative of Grand Ayatollah Kazim al-Ha’iri – reaction not positive

• Shahmani views ING as great success

Assessment: ING concentrating on building a base of support and clearly defining organizational vision which is critical to future growth and influence. ING has the potential to become a potent political force in Iraq if able to overcome significant early organizational challenges.

GCC Concludes 28th Summit

- Emphasized importance of respecting Iraqi unity and sovereignty
- Expressed satisfaction over improved security in Iraq, but Gol must:
  - Make stronger efforts to achieve national reconciliation
  - Work on amending constitution
  - Disband all forms of militia/illegal armed groups
- Council willing to cooperate with Iraqi authorities in combating terror
- Other topics discussed:
  - Stressed importance of reaching peaceful solution to Iranian nuclear issue
  - Affirmed sovereignty of UAE over three islands (Tunb, lesser Tunb and Abu Moussa)

Assessment: GCC emphasis on Iraqi unity/sovereignty demonstrates increased confidence in improved security. With concerns over security abated, GCC countries will likely focus support on initiatives aimed at achieving national reconciliation.

Sadr: Strategic Balance

• (U) Recommends political opposition to CF in Iraq
  – Maintains strong rhetorical opposition to CF presence
  – Qualifies his father’s authorization for armed opposition to any occupation

• (U) Reiterates previous calls
  – Demands timetable for withdrawal
  – Blames Gol for complicity
  – Calls for national unity

• (U) Reaffirms support to militia
  – Calls for support to Karbala fighters through prayer
  – Pays homage to fighters, martyrs, and prisoners
  – Demands release of JAM detainees

(C//REL) Assessment: Sadr striking balance between support for mainstream JAM and institutionalizing the freeze. Expect rhetoric to continue, while Sadrists work to defuse crises and use political ties to relieve pressure on JAM. Call for political solution may encourage additional reconciliation efforts.

Some AQI Infiltrating Awakening Movement

- (S//REL) AQI members infiltrating Awakening movement

- (U) AQI continuing to target Awakening movement members

  - AQI detonated SVEST killing four Diyala Awakening Council leaders

(S//REL) Assessment: Although AQI will continue to overtly target Awakening elements, infiltration may be covert AQI tactic to disrupt Awakening and CLC activities. AQI currently views Awakening efforts and Sunni/Shi'a reconciliation as greatest threat to their efforts in Iraq.

Ansar Al-Sunnah Name Change

• Ansar Al-Sunnah (AS) reverts to Ansar al-Islam
  – Announced by Emir in written statement issued 7 Dec

• American interests successful in region
  – National reconciliation plans
  – Calls for political participation
  – Demonstrates that those in power are not following true Sharia, only AS on true course

• Neighboring countries using Iraq as political and ethnic battlefield

• Number of groups who believe in establishing Islamic Emirate decreasing
  – Emir – “...there is not in 100 camels a good one”

• Responsibility of Ansar Al-Sunnah to return to former name, continue righteous Jihad

Assessment: AS decision to revert to previous name demonstrates unwillingness among disparate insurgent groups to unite efforts, despite jihadist forums’ recent calls for unity in the Sunni resistance against the occupier and its agents.

Alternate Route to Improve GOI-Sunni Relations

- Sunni Endowment attempting to gain influence in politics by reducing AMS influence
  - Endowment attempting to replace al Dhari as head of AMS
  - Dr. Safa' and MOD commended Endowment for closure of AMS office
- AMS losing influence due to the current success of tribal awakenings and own past failures
  - AMS denounces continued CF presence past 2008, urges tribes to cease CF engagement

Assessment: AMS will continue to oppose the engagement process, thereby alienating the Sunni population. Sunni Endowment is taking steps likely to increase its influence. Successful GOI endorsement of Endowment is a likely inroad to engagement with Sunni community.

Strategic Theme: While the insurgency is engaging CF they refuse to engage the GOI which eliminates the opportunity to bring in a large portion of the Sunnis. The Waqf’s moderate stance and efforts to eliminate the AMS and al Dhari provide a new approach for the GOI via the Waqf and the Sunni mosques they influence.

Muqtada Al-Sadr’s Ayatollah Objective

- (U) According to close aides, MAS currently on path to achieve ayatollah by 2010 or earlier
  - Would provide Sadr:
    - Important new voice/aura
    - Fresh clout to challenge ISCI
  - OMS movement would grow stronger
- (U) Currently holds title of hojat al-Islam
- (U) As Ayatollah, views and fatwas would resonate with more authority
- (U) Absence from public eye has raised questions about control over movement

{C//REL} Assessment: Reports of MAS resuming studies to become ayatollah by 2010 likely exaggerated. Required studies would hinder ability to actually lead trend. May be OMS disinformation effort to explain Sadr’s extended absence and improve public perception of lower-ranking religious qualifications.

Strategic Theme: Harith al-Dari stays on his anti coalition ant GOI message despite what the current situation is. Ignores/downplays the success of the Sahawa movements while defending AQI. It does not appear that AMS enjoys the widespread support of the Iraqi populace. Defending AQI through AMS probably not a smart move. Although not explicitly condoning AQI tactics he displays passive support.

Quote from the interviewer.... Al-Zufayri - You mean a continuous and endless process of division. Two minutes left. Now I would like to give you an opinion about the AMS and its stand. Some say that the AMS has stopped moving at a certain point and it does not want to go beyond this point. A reality is being created in Iraq and the AMS is totally detached from it. The number of its representatives and those who believe in its stand is indeed dwindling. The question is: Do you have a specific vision for what is going on in Iraq, for Iraq's future, or a real way out of the Iraqi crisis, which has been going on for years?

6 January 2008 is celebrated as Iraqi Armed Forces Day in Iraq.

Representatives from the Iraqi army, Air Force, Navy, and Special Forces will participate in the ceremony. In past years as in this year Coalition force leaders will attend along with the international media. The 2007 ceremony was presided over by Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki and was reported to have started with the national anthem, banned by Saddam Hussein, and followed by a reading from the Holy Quran. Events since the end of the Iraq War in 2003 have been peaceful events. Since penetrating the International Zone by insurgents and conducting an attack on the celebration would be tantamount to a suicide mission, it is highly unlikely that this year’s celebration will be marred by violence. JAM Special Groups, AQI and other insurgent groups retain the capability and capacity to launch attacks. Any attack for this celebration in this location would have to be in the form of an SVEST, mortars or rockets. We assess that with no reports to date, the possibility of an attack is not likely, although it cannot be completely ruled out and all insurgent groups and militias retain capability.
